Case History: Baby Bhavna Singh Patel is 4 years old baby girl diagnosed with Relapsed Acute Lymphoblastic Leukemia (Relapsed acute lymphoblastic leukemia refers to the return of acute lymphoblastic leukemia (ALL) in patients who have already undergone treatment for the disease) and needs Allogeneic Bone Marrow Transplant (An allogeneic stem cell transplant uses healthy blood stem cells from a donor to replace your diseased or damaged bone marrow. A donor may be a family member, an acquaintance or someone you don't know). Due to their poor financial condition they went many places to ask for financial support and hence could not get treated Baby Bhavna Singh Patel. Her health started deteriorating day by day and they were afraid of losing her. Her parents took her to P.D Hinduja National Hospital & Medical Research Centre, Mahim. Doctors immediately informed them that she requires an urgent bone marrow transplant.

Family Background: Her father worked in a private college as a Computer Lab Assistant in Uttar Pradesh and her mother is a housewife. Her father earns only Rs. 10,000/-. He left the job because he could not take leave every now and then and come to Mumbai for his daughter's treatment. As his daughter's critical condition requires his presence for fulfilling various requirements of a major operation and treatment and he is working very hard to collect funds for his daughter's treatment. He does not have anything that could compensate the cost of the operation and he feels helpless as he can't bear the cost of the treatment of his daughter Baby Bhavna Singh Patel.
